Here Comes Kalle

A dog, children, humor, excitement – this family program has it all! It's an irresistible mix of light-hearted family, animal and adventure series. And it's firmly rooted in the context of an increasingly rare phenomenon on TV: an intact family consisting of father, mother and two kids. And, in this case, a little devil of a dog!

Kalle is a Parson Russell terrier who's full of fun, inquisitive, and loves to stick his nose in other people's business. Luckily, he's got just the right masters for his passion: a policewoman and a journalist. Pia is a down-to-earth woman who manages her job, her family and her dog with a positive, can-do spirit. A loving wife and mother who's often lenient at home, Pia is strict and uncompromising when it comes to her job. Stefan works from home, where he's often more available to the kids than Pia. Like Kalle, he, too, is interested in Pia's cases, for purely professional reasons, of course! Pia, Stefan and their kids Merle and Hanno lead normal lives that viewers can easily identify with. And the problems they encounter are always solved with common sense and a touch of humor. Kalle feels at home with his family and at police headquarters, even if Pia isn't always pleased to see him there. After all, he's not a police dog! But his small size is a great advantage and his instinct is nearly infallible. And besides, he's a hundred times faster than Pia and her colleagues Olli and Lorenz.

"Here Comes Kalle" breathes fresh air into the genre of the classic family series. Emotion, excitement, suspense, humor and warmth – it's got everything that two- and four-legged viewers want!
